Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I am back from the trip to Europe. As I mentioned last weekend it was an excellent trip filled with blessings, some of which I intend to share with you this weekend during the homily. Thank you again for your prayers and best wishes.

November 01st is the Feast of all Saints. It's a day of Obligation. We have a school mass on November 01st @ 09.15 am.

All Souls Day

November 02nd is All Souls Day. We will have a mass for our departed family members at 09.15 am.

Fr. Walter Tuscano, SAC
Pastor

I BECAME fascinated with Thomas More for the first time when I worked as a stagehand for my high school's production of A Man for All Seasons. I was intrigued by this man who so obviously had his own life in his hands and yet chose to die. As the years have passed, I have grown more in awe of him. No one could accuse him of any incapacity to explore its abundant variety. He loved deeply and was deeply loved. He was successful and admired. Thomas More was no plaster-cast saint; he was a man who loved life and was full of life. And yet, he found something within himself without which life is valueless. So, when cruel and selfish men tried to take that something from him, he chose to embrace death rather than surrender to it. I hope you and I can find that something within ourselves.
